

News from the International Union for Pure and Applied Biophysics

THIRD INTERNATIONAL BIOPHYSICS CONGRESS

International Union of Pure and Applied Biophysics 29 August–
3 September 1969 Cambridge, Massachusetts, U.S.A.

Announcement of Travel Awards

A limited number of awards will be available to scientists with active interests in pure and applied biophysics planning to attend the Third International Biophysics Congress, International Union of Pure and Applied Biophysics, to be held 29 August–3 September 1969 in Cambridge, Massachusetts, U.S.A.

Younger applicants (35 or under) from either the U.S.A. or from abroad, or applicants working in countries where biophysics is less highly organized will be given highest priority. Authorship of a paper to be presented at the Congress is not a requirement for the award.

Maximum awards will cover travel by round-trip jet-economy fare by shortest route. Other awards will be made to cover a part of the travel costs, or for registration and subsistence.

Applications should be made on forms obtainable from:

THIRD INTERNATIONAL BIOPHYSICS CONGRESS
ROOM 20B-221, M. I. T.
CAMBRIDGE, MASSACHUSETTS 02139, U.S.A

Application form and supporting materials must be received at the above address by 1 May 1969. Award decisions will be communicated to applicants by about 1 June 1969.
