New from CPD Online

CPD ONLINE

CPD Online is an e-learning resource offered by the Royal College of Psychiatrists. The website contains a range of learning modules and podcasts that provide a flexible, interactive way of keeping up to date with progress in mental health. College members may use CPD Online for up to 25 CPD points in the UK. Access to the modules is through annual subscription, but we offer a series of free trial modules. For more information, visit the CPD Online website: www.psychiatrycpd.org.

Recent modules

An introduction to leadership and management for psychiatrists

'Leadership' is a fashionable term used a great deal by managers and others in healthcare organisations. As a concept it is complex, multifaceted and heavily influenced by the context in which it arises. This module offers guidance for senior clinicians on how to think about the topics of leadership and management as they apply to psychiatry. Key theories and models are presented alongside a critical commentary informed by the evidence base and personal experience. CPD Credits: 1

Podcast Suicide and the recession

Dr Aaron Reeves and colleagues recently published a paper in the British Journal of Psychiatry reporting that the Great Recession is associated with at least 10000 economic suicides. Dr Raj Persaud discusses this finding with Dr Reeves. CPD Credits: 0.5

Podcast Conversion disorder

Professor Anthony David discusses with Dr Raj Persaud the paper he co-wrote on a brain imaging investigation of conversion disorder. The study probes a neuroscience explanation for conversion symptoms where a traumatic experience is transformed into a physical symptom. CPD Credits: 0.5

Podcast The neurological examination

Psychiatrists often approach the neurological examination with trepidation. In this podcast Professor Adam Zeman explains how to conduct it quickly and reliably. CPD Credits: 0.5

Podcast The cognitive assessment

Dr Raj Persaud discusses the cognitive assessment with Professor Adam Zeman, Professor of Cognitive and Behavioural Neurology at the University of Exeter Medical School. CPD Credits: 0.5
