APPOINTMENT OF KEEPER OF IRISH ANTIQUITIES IN THE NATIONAL MUSEUM, DUBLIN.

APPLICATIONS are invited for the appointment of Keeper of the Irish Antiquities Section in the National Museum, Dublin. The salary of the post will be £600 per annum, rising by £20 per annum to £800 per annum, with Cost of Living Bonus on the usual Civil Service Scale; at the present rate of bonus £600 plus bonus amounts to £818 per annum. The post is a whole-time one carrying pension rights under the Superannuation Acts, and will be held subject to the provisions of the Civil Service Regulation Acts, and any regulations made or to be made thereunder.

The duties of the Keeper consist principally in the care of the Royal Irish Academy's collection of antiquities, which is housed in the National Museum. The Keeper is a Civil Servant, and is required to attend in the Museum at the regular hours prescribed for Civil Servants. He is further expected to organize and pursue researches in the field of Celtic Archaeology, with special regard to the objects in the Academy's collection, and to keep himself fully informed as to archaeological discovery, wherever it may occur, and to advise the Academy as to the purchase of objects offered for sale.

Candidates should produce evidence that they possess a thorough knowledge of Archaeology, with particular reference to the earlier periods of human culture. They should submit lists of their published work, and furnish proof that they have had some experience of the work of an archaeological museum.

The qualifications of candidates for appointment will be reviewed by a Selection Board appointed by the Civil Service Commission.

Applications, which should state applicant's age, should be received not later than 31st January, 1925, by

AN RÚNAIDHE

Westminster Abbey

Prepared by the Royal Commission on Historical Monuments, this volume constitutes a full and copiously illustrated Inventory of the Abbey and its contents. The Provost of Eton has contributed a historical introduction, there is an armorial of mediæval heraldry, a list of the monuments in the Abbey from 1714 to the present day, and a glossary of architectural, heraldic and archæological terms, together with a copious index.

The book will be a record worthy of the premier historical monument of England and worthy also of the praise universally accorded to the previous volumes of the series. Of the last volume the Connoisseur observed:— 'In every respect the volume is on a par with its predecessors, alike for the erudition evinced in it, the quality of its illustrations, and the taste displayed in its mounting.'

Demy 4to, Cloth, 360 pp., including 220 full-page illustrations. Price 21s. net. Postage 9d. extra.
