CHALLENGING THE MYTHS: THE SCHOOLS, THE BLACK, AND THE POOR Reprint No. 5, $3.00

The authors examine the sources and nature of institutional racism in the schools – erroneous assumptions and the way these assumptions are translated into policy, thus reinforcing existing social stratification. Contributors include Susan Stodolsky and Gerald Lesser, Charles A. Valentine, Stephen and Joan Baratz, Ray Rist, and Annie Stein.

CULTURAL ACTION FOR FREEDOM Monograph No. 1 $2.00

Dr Freire, a noted Brazilian educator, discusses a theory and practice of adult literacy education based upon authentic dialogue, leading not only to the acquisition of literacy skills, but also to the learners' awareness of their right and capacity as human beings to transform reality. The monograph includes an introduction and appendix by the author and a preface by João Coutinho.

AFRICA SOUTH OF THE SAHARA Index to Periodical Literature, 1900-1970 The Library of Congress

This index, created chiefly as a working tool for the African Section of The Library of Congress and its users, is an important reference to current periodical literature on sub-Saharan Africa. In addition, several major Africana journals are covered from their beginning dates of publication.

This highly specialized working tool of 87,200 entries contains cards prepared by the African Section as well as by such European bibliographic sources as CARDAN, CIDESA, and the Fondation Nationale des Sciences Politiques, Paris.

The catalog is divided according to individual countries and regions and is subdivided alphabetically by subject. An author index to poetry and short stories published in African literary journals is also included.

A Publishing Innovation on Africa

EASTERN AFRICAN STUDIES

published by The Program of Eastern African Studies, The Maxwell Graduate School, Syracuse University

This new series fills a void in African studies. Eastern African Studies will specialize in publishing papers that are too long to be journal articles, yet too short to become books. The series covers History and the Social Sciences as they relate to the study of Africa and in particular, Eastern Africa. While it will mainly publish monographs of theoretical or empirical significance, Eastern African Studies will also publish applied studies of developmental problems in Africa.

Titles available from September, 1971:

FRANK BALLANCE, Zambia and the East African Community 134 pp. $4.00

STEPHEN P. HEYNEMAN, The Conflict Over What is to be Learned in Schools: A History of Curriculum Politics in Africa 113 pp. $4.00

PATRICK J. MCGOWAN and PATRICK BOLLAND, The Political and Social Elite of Tanzania: An Analysis of Social Background Factors 140 pp. (approx.) $4.00

JOHN N. COLLINS, Foreign Conflict Behavior and Domestic Disorder in Africa 140 pp. (approx.) $4.00

Quality manuscripts are invited. Two copies, double-spaced, typewritten, should be sent to The Editor, Eastern African Studies, 119 College Place, Syracuse, New York 13210. Address all correspondence and orders to the Publications Desk, Program of Eastern African Studies, 119 College Place, Syracuse, New York 13210.

THE JOURNAL OF MODERN AFRICAN STUDIES

The Journal offers a quarterly survey of politics, economics, and related topics in contemporary Africa.

The main emphasis is upon the peoples and policies, the problems and progress of this dynamic and disparate continent; upon the many societies that are evolving rather than the essential characteristics of the old; upon the present, not on the more distant past. The best current work is sought from specialists in different academic disciplines, whose contributions can illuminate and cross-fertilise one another.

The Journal seeks to promote a deeper understanding of what is happening in Africa today. It is intended for both the political scientist and the practical politician, the administrator and the advocate, the economist and the educator, the banker and the businessman, the diplomat and the technocrat, the civil servant and the nationalist leader. All have something to contribute to these pages and, it is hoped, much to learn from them.

Editorial policy avoids commitment to any political viewpoint or ideology, whether imperialism, pan-Africanism, capitalism, socialism, or nationalism. Such concepts, however, have relevance to the modern African situation, and merit serious discussion, often from several different points of view, in order that controversial issues may be fairly examined.
