

Contents

OPEN ISSUE CONTENT

- 721 Jason Wyckoff
Linking Sexism and Speciesism
- 738 J. Kasi Jackson
Science Studies Perspectives on Animal Behavior Research: Toward a Deeper Understanding of Gendered Impacts
- 755 Sara Giordano
Scientific Reforms, Feminist Interventions, and the Politics of Knowing: An Auto-ethnography of a Feminist Neuroscientist
- 774 Lorna Finlayson
How to Screw Things with Words
- 790 Karen Frost-Arnold
Imposters, Tricksters, and Trustworthiness as an Epistemic Virtue
- 808 Lauren Swayne Barthold
True Identities: From Performativity to Festival
- 824 Aret Karademir
Butler and Heidegger: On the Relation between Freedom and Marginalization
- 840 Ann J. Cahill
The Difference Sameness Makes: Objectification, Sex Work, and Queerness
- 857 Rachel McKinnon
Stereotype Threat and Attributional Ambiguity for Trans Women
- 873 Kristie Dotson and Marita Gilbert
Curious Disappearances: Affectability Imbalances and Process-Based Invisibility
- 889 Mathew A. Foust
The Feminist Pacifism of William James and Mary Whiton Calkins

CLUSTER ON MARY WOLLSTONECRAFT

- 906 Martina Reuter, Lena Halldenius, and Alan Coffee
Cluster Introduction: Mary Wollstonecraft: Philosophy and Enlightenment
- 908 Alan M. S. J. Coffee
Freedom as Independence: Mary Wollstonecraft and the Grand Blessing of Life

- 925 Martina Reuter
“Like a Fanciful Kind of Half Being”: Mary Wollstonecraft’s Criticism of Jean-Jacques Rousseau
- 942 Lena Halldenius
Mary Wollstonecraft’s Feminist Critique of Property: On Becoming a Thief from Principle

Notes on Contributors