

Announcing 5 Instructional Units On Comparative Politics

with print and audio components

Each unit consists of a monograph and 60 minute audio cassette that provides a comparative perspective on a specific topic taught in courses on American government and politics. A unit can be used singly or in combination with others in the series in order to introduce students to other countries' institutions and policies. The units can be adapted for an introductory American government and politics course or for upper division courses.

The Administrative State in Industrialized Democracies

by Joel D. Aberbach and Bert A. Rockman

Coordinating International Economic Strategy

by Stephen Cohen and John Zysman

Comparative Political Parties

by William Crotty

The Welfare State in Hard Times

by Hugh Heclo

Preserving Peace: The Difficult Choice of International Security

by George H. Quester

Each monograph includes an essay, a bibliography and notes for the instructor.

Each cassette dramatizes the issues in the monograph through interviews with scholars and political leaders and citizens in other countries.

This series is based on material from two audio/print college courses entitled, "Global Understanding," developed and produced by National Public Radio, in conjunction with the University of California at San Diego and Columbia University, New York.

The Annenberg/CPB Project supported the development of these units.

A monograph with its audio cassette is $5.50. Additional copies of the monograph are $4.00. The complete set of 5 monographs and cassettes is $22.50.
